

Foster Families Session 6

Self evaluation questions

1. Caregivers should:
  - a. focus on the relationship with children. Their basic needs' fulfilment is not so important
  - b. fulfil children's basic needs, to make them feel there is somebody taking care of them
  - c. fulfil children's basic needs and encourage their relationship with somebody else, in order to enhance their social abilities
  - d. take care of children, dedicating time to establish a relationship with them

2. When a child gets angry, a secure caregiver tends to:
  - a. get angrier, in order to scare the child and make him/her relax
  - b. acting firmly, but calmly and gently, too, not to reflect the child's anger
  - c. laugh and smile, trying to make the child laugh
  - d. pretend that nothing happened

3. If children develop secure base attachment, when they grow older they tend to:
  - a. develop trust towards other people
  - b. develop trust towards themselves, only
  - c. develop trust towards the caregiver, only
  - d. develop trust towards peers, only

4. When children develop secure attachment they tend to react in the following way when the caregiver leave:
  - a. they become sad, but soon relax and start playing
  - b. they become happy
  - c. they become desperate
  - d. they do not react

5. If the caregiver was treated harshly by his/her own caregivers, he/she should:
  - a. try to forget it
  - b. treat children in the same way because it was useful and strengthened him/her
  - c. try to think how he/she could treat children in a more gentle way
  - d. teach children to treat their peers harshly, to teach them how to defend their rights